WHOLE NO. 342

Cleveland Delighted.

INTERVIEWED ON THE RESULT OF THE ELECTIONS.

The Democratic Party Has Made an Honest and Earnest Fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Ex-President Cleveland, in an interview with a reporter of the United Press on the results of yesterday's election, said:

"I am delighted. I challenge the right of any man in the country to rejoice more heartily than I over the result of yesterday's election. My gratification is not for an American, proud of his fellow-countrymen, who, though led away for a time by party prejudices and by blind confidence in cunning and selfish leaders, could not be deluded to their ruin. They have demonstrated that, in dealing with them, it is not safe to calculate that they are stupid or heedless of the welfare of their countrymen. The necessity of tariff reform with its consequent reduction in the cost of living and the duty of the Democratic party to advocate it has been fully demonstrated by the action of the people yesterday. Their decision has been deliberately made, and it is all the more significant because they have voted upon their reason and judgment, and because they have proved that corruption is powerless as against their convictions."

"Of course there is nothing for the Democratic party to do but to push on the lines which they have laid down, that is to insist upon a wise adjustment of tariff taxation to the reasonable needs of the government, as opposed to the plan which enriches a favored class at the expense of the masses of the people. Until victory is won the question of tariff reform will not be settled and the pledges and professions of the Democratic party to the people redeemed."

"Our party has made an honest and earnest fight. It has planted itself upon disinterested and unselfish devotion to the interests of the people. Its absolute unity and harmony upon the question of tariff reform shows its quick recognition of true Democratic principles and its enthusiasm in a cause which involves the popular welfare. Everywhere our people have done magnificently, and the harvest they have gathered has been nobly earned."

In answer to an inquiry as to his view on the operation of the ballot reform law Mr. Cleveland said:

"I think there should be no more opposition to the principle of ballot reform. The evidence of its usefulness and benefit to the people I regard as conclusive. In some matters of detail the law in our State might perhaps be improved. It seems to me it would be well to obviate the necessity for many separate ballots. But, after all, the law is not perfect. The thing upon which every honest man should congratulate himself is that we have a law which protects our voters from corruption and intimidation, and is one of those measures of relief which have been adopted, will not be surrendered."

SAUCE FOR THE GANDER.

A Democratic Congressman's Idea of a Fit Dose for Lodge.

From New York Evening Post.

You know the methods of ascertaining majorities which Lodge and his friends put into operation against Southern members when they wanted an excuse for turning them out, don't you? They started with the sweeping assumption that race and party lines were coincident—that the color of a man's skin tells you which way he votes without the need of inquiring further; all negroes are Republicans, all white men Democrats. Hence if the negro voters outnumber the whites in any district by 5,000 the Republican candidate must have 5,000 majority. Why should the logic that is good enough to turn out a Representative from Alabama, say, be good enough to turn out one from Massachusetts? In Lodge's district the proportion of colored voters to white is about one to ninety. Hence in a vote of 35,000 there would be, presumptively, 400 votes cast for Lodge at the outside and the remaining 34,600 for Everett. If Lodge wants anybody to believe that he got more than 400 votes he must prove every vote affirmatively. That is the style of short cut reasoning he loves to apply to Democrats and it will save a lot of bother to use it on him next year.

Washington News.

From Our Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, November 3, 1890.

Secretary Noble has shown that he is, as far as the late Zachariah Chandler, who will probably be known in history as the man who made a President by sending the celebrated telegram reading "Hayes is elected by one majority." To-day was the day announced by the Superintendent of the census for issuing the official bulletin of the population of the United States, but when Secretary Noble learned by telegraph that Gov. Hill, of New York, had written him a strong letter demanding a recount of New York city on the ground of serious errors in the June enumeration, and that Mayor Grant had sent him a second letter asking the same thing by a special messenger, who was also to bring absolute proof of errors made in the original enumeration, he ordered Superintendent Porter to issue the bulletin at once, in order that he might have, as an excuse for refusing the recount asked for, the fact that the official population had already been given out. A more deliberate piece of chicanery was never perpetrated by the most unscrupulous politician. Saturday Gov. Hill's letter was received by mail at the Interior department, and Mayor Grant's messenger delivered his letter to Secretary Noble, but the aforesaid bulletin was issued Friday.

A careful study of this bulletin, which gives the total population at 62,480,540, at least 2,500,000 less than it ought to be, will convince any unprejudiced man that the charges long ago made against this administration of manipulating the census returns for the purpose of perpetuating the power of the Republican party, were well founded. That the enumeration of the Democratic States, particularly those of the South, is far below their actual population, cannot be doubted by anyone at all familiar with their increase in population. For instance, Alabama, the industrial development of which has been phenomenal during the last ten years, is only credited with an increase of 335,468 in population; Tennessee, where the industrial progress has been quite as great, is only given a gain of 221,384; and West Virginia is only allowed a gain of 141,991. These will do for specimens of the manner in which this gigantic fraud upon the intelligence of the people has been carried out. The falseness of this bulletin is carried upon its face, when it gives the percentage of increase during the last ten years as 24.57 against 30.08 during the ten years between 1870 and 1880. Superintendent Porter has a guilty conscience, which he shows by attempting to explain this falling back in the percentage of increase by charging it to errors in taking the census of 1880 in the Southern States. Mr. Porter knows, as does every other intelligent person, that the percentage of increase in the population of the United States was greater during the past ten years than it was between 1870 and 1880, and that knowledge on the part of the people will bring discredit on the entire work of the eleventh census.

What makes the action of Secretary Noble all the more despicable is the fact that in order to get the semblance of an excuse for refusing New York city the recount to which it is so clearly entitled, he had this bulletin issued before the returns, cooked up as they are, were complete, and Superintendent Porter was compelled to state in the bulletin that it was subject to change from later returns. There was no reason in the world, except the one above mentioned, for issuing this bulletin before the complete returns were all in the census office, and it is certain that if New York city had not asked for a recount it would not have been issued before December.

The Governor of Idaho, who is a Republican, expresses his opinion of the census in his annual report to Secretary Noble in strong language. He says: "I have information that leads to the belief that thousands of our people were not enumerated. Many of our mines were not visited by the enumerators. Several large districts occupied by men engaged in prospecting for and developing mines were overlooked or neglected. I am confident that the population of Idaho, if correctly enumerated, would be as large as estimated in my report for 1889—113,777." The census bulletin only gives Idaho 84,289.

The physicians declared her case incurable, and predicted that her life would come to a speedy end. After taking S. S. ## The Extension of the A. & D. Railroad Company.

Suffolk Progress.

From time to time we have expressed our positive convictions that the A. & D. railroad company would be extended westward. There are several reasons why we were so confident that this result would be accomplished. In the first place, it was the original idea of the late President B. F. Tilley, Senator Plumb and other primary promulgators of this railroad scheme, as the only means by which the success of the A. & D. railroad company could be assured. The present President of the line, Gen. Ewing, while in Portsmouth laid the plans before a number of gentlemen in our presence, and we were all convinced by his argument and his own earnestness that he would not rest until this project became an accomplished fact. Commodore Bateman and his friends and the English bondholders we knew did all they could to favor the proposed extension; and we knew that the present management have been heartily at work to further this object. The projected trunk line we felt certain had too much intrinsic merit to prove a failure, and now we are very glad to learn that the scheme has taken definite shape.

The extension goes under the name of the Danville and East Tennessee company which is to run from either Bristol or Johnson City to Danville, and connect there with the Atlantic and Danville railroad for Portsmouth. This company was reorganized in New York Saturday. The following are its officers: General Thos. Ewing, of New York, President; T. W. M. Draper, of Norfolk, vice President and General Manager; H. A. Hitchcock, of Norfolk, Treasurer; Paul Gorham, of New York, Secretary; Directors: The above officers and Barton Myers, of Norfolk; A. E. Bateman, of New York; James P. Harrison, J. E. Reson, of Danville.

The capital behind the enterprise comes from New York, Boston, Chicago and Danville. Mr. Draper the general manager, says that engineers are now in the field making the survey, and that the construction party will follow the surveyors rapidly, and that the road will soon be under way. He says it is the most direct route yet projected for reaching the great wealth of iron, coal, zinc lead and copper of Virginia and Tennessee. Danville has voted the road $150,000 and Bristol $110,000. The western terminus is to be either Bristol or Johnson City, but which of the two places will be selected cannot yet be stated. If Bristol it will connect there with the South Atlantic and Ohio railroad, East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia railroad and the Bristol and Elizabethton. If Johnson City is selected, it will connect there with the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and the Three C's—the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago.

The extension of this road will be a great benefit to this city, as it will open up a new country which will be tributary to our trade. It will increase very largely the A. & D. machine shops, round houses and terminal facilities, and bring coal and iron to our shores in the course of time that will rival the immense traffic of the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company.

UNFAIR TREATMENT.

A Republican Firm Reduces the Wages of Its Democratic Employees.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A Herald special from Canton, O., says: This morning forty-seven Democrats employed by Russell & Co., of Massillon, quit work because their wages had been reduced. The wages of the Republicans were not changed, and the only reason given for reducing the Democrats' wages was because they voted for J. G. Warwick and against Maj. McKinley.

Otto Young, a prominent Democrat, who inquired of C. H. Russell if it was true that the reduction had been made, received the reply: "Hereafter in our shops free traders will receive free trade wages." An indignation meeting will be held by the citizens to take action in the matter.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was thought to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and by constantly failing to cure by local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a spoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. ## ANARCHISTS JAILED.

Kept Out of a Hall, Mrs. Parsons Seeks to Excite a Mob.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 7.—A week ago Saenger Hall was hired by people representing the International Workmen's Society. The proprietor of the hall did not know that the people were Anarchists until the bills were posted throughout the city announcing the celebration of the third anniversary of the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists. Lucy Parsons, Herr Most and Hugh O. Pentecost were advertised as speakers.

When the speakers appeared this evening the proprietor refused to allow them to enter the hall. A big crowd had congregated on the street. Mrs. Parsons mounted the hall steps and began to harangue the crowd. Police Captain Glori stepped up and carried her to the street. She defied him with strong language, and several Anarchists urged her to continue. The captain gave the signal and the officers and detectives grabbed the ring-leaders and marched them to the Fourth precinct station. Those arrested are Jacob Dick, John Schmidt, Edward L. Klump, Englebert Hummer, Simon Gortman, Charles Yeager, Adam Dasing, Sebastain Mohr and Mrs. Parsons.

Herr Most escaped in the crowd. The prisoners will be examined in the morning.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at McFarland & Co.'s Drugstore, regular size, 50c and $1.00.

The Danville and East Tennessee.

Danville Register, 8th.

The recent meeting of the board of directors of the Danville and East Tennessee railway was held in Gen. Thomas Ewing's office in New York on his call.

All the Danville directors and those of New York, except Messrs. Peck and Bateman were present.

President Ewing stated that the meeting had been called to reorganize the board, so as to secure representation from other prominent points along the line and from places from which capital to build is expected to come.

To this end, General Peck and Mr. Stuart and all the Danville directors resigned, doing so singly, so that a quorum might elect their successors as they went a long.

The present board as partially reorganized consists of General Thos. Ewing, of New York, President; Paul Gorham, of New York, Secretary; A. E. Bateman, of New York, T. W. M. Draper, Barton Myers and E. A. Hitchcock, of Norfolk and James P. Harrison, of Danville.

Mr. Harrison was re-elected, after resigning, because having been the counsel for the road, the President desired him to continue in the board.

There are other places to be filled in the board and it is understood that Danville will then have at least two members.

It is also understood that Mr. Bateman will tender his resignation as soon as he returns home from Europe. The board now has a working quorum without Mr. Bateman's presence and it is ready for work at once.

Mr. Hitchcock was elected Treasurer, he being the representative of the new capital.

Mr. Draper was elected general manager and chief engineer.

A Register reporter who called on Mr. Harrison yesterday afternoon asked him what of the outlook.

He replied: "I am satisfied that the new capitalists interested in the road mean business, and the prospects of the enterprise, which for some time have been dark, are now very bright."

He further said active work will begin in ten days from now, provided satisfactory rights of way through Danville and adjacent territory can be secured.

Danville Register (6th.)

The outlook for the Danville and East Tennessee road is encouraging. The capitalists interested in the enterprise propose to spend fifty thousand dollars in making the survey and acquiring the right of way, and people do not usually expend that amount of money for the fun of playing at railroad building. We learn from good authority that the money has been put up and this is the best guarantee that the parties interested mean business.

What Cures?

What is the force that ousts disease; and which is the most convenient apparatus for applying it? How far is the regular physician useful to us because we believe in him, and how far are his pills and powders and tonics only the material representatives of his personal influence on our health?

The regular doctors cure; the homoeopathic doctors cure; the Hahnemanns cure; and so do the faith cures and the mind cures, and the so-called Christian sciences, and the four-dollar-and-a-half advertising itinerants, and the patent medicine men. They all hit, and they all miss, and the great difference—one great difference—in the result is that when the regular doctor loses a patient no one grumbles, and when the irregular doctors lose one the community stands on end and howls—Rochester Union and Advertiser.

Nature cures, but nature can't be aided, hindered or defeated in the curative process. And the Commercial contention is that it is the part of rational beings to seek and trust the advice of men of good character who have studied human system and learned, as far as modern science lights the way, how far they can aid nature and how they can best avoid obstructing her.—Buffalo Commercial.
